PRACTICE AREAS

Business Litigation
Complex Torts
Product Liability
Professional Liability

Morgan focuses her practice on the defense of professional liability, product liability, and business litigation cases. She also brings a meticulous approach to appellate advocacy, combining deep legal research with a practical understanding of the art and strategy of appeals. Whether conducting discovery, crafting compelling briefs, or presenting oral arguments, Morgan works closely with clients to position cases for the strongest possible outcome. Prior to joining Larson · King, Morgan gained valuable trial litigation experience at a nationally recognized Minneapolis law firm, where she focused on medical malpractice litigation. This experience informed her ability to identify and frame dispositive issues for review and developed her reputation for excellence in written and oral advocacy. Morgan earned her J.D. from Mitchell Hamline Law School, where she served as Assistant Editor of the Mitchell Hamline Law Review and graduated summa cum laude. She is admitted to practice before the Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, and Wisconsin state courts, as well as the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota. Outside of her practice, Morgan enjoys cheering on the Minnesota Twins, coaching competitive swimmers, and spending time with family.
